

Friday 25th September

Dear Parents/Carers,

With the ever growing number of Covid cases and with tighter restrictions being enforced, it is only right that we plan for a local lockdown or possible partial school closure. Whilst we are sincerely hoping that this will not happen, we feel it is better to be prepared. On Thursday, I emailed a copy of our Remote Learning Strategy to all parents, so that everyone is aware of the expectations between home and school. As in the past, we will work hard to support you with any difficulties you may encounter. Every child should now be on Google Classroom; please can you ensure that this is accessible to you at home so we can resolve any problems preemptively. Whilst on the topic of Covid, as the temperature has dropped throughout this week and with the need to keep our classes well ventilated, children (and adults) are feeling the cold. Therefore, if your child wants to wear additional layers under their uniform or a red fleece over their uniform to keep them warm please do.

On Monday, individual school photographs will be taking place. Due to Covid, unlike previous years, we are unable to do any group photographs.

In Towan class, we followed instructions to make sandwiches using the cress we have grown. In English, we created questions to ask the 'Lazy old Farmer' who visited us at the beginning of the week. The children have enjoyed learning the story map of 'Farmer Duck' that we created as a class.

This week, in Summers Class we have continued to learn about LS Lowry and we have created seascapes using the five colours that Lowry used. Look out on the class blog to see the painting being created. We have also started a new book this week 'A Walk in London'. The children have enjoyed learning about the different things that can be found in London.

Porthcurnick Class have been writing detailed descriptions of the Stone Age camp in their class read 'Stone Age Boy'. They have also learnt about how we became human by starting to walk on two feet, developing a bigger brain, a precision grip and the ability to make fire.

In Porthluney, we have been writing character descriptions about the Minotaur; you can read them on our class blog. We have also been investigating levers and how they work. We found out that we can lift weights with less effort if we move further away from the fulcrum.

Below are the links to our class blogs so that you can keep up-to-date with your children's learning.

Next Thursday, on 1st October, the school kitchen will be celebrating Cornish cuisine. The menu will be homemade steak Cornish pasty and chocolate brownie with Cornish strawberries. Please can I remind all parents of Reception, Year 1 and year 2 pupils that your children are entitled to a free school meal, which is funded by the Government. A copy of the menu can be found on the school website. This is not compulsory, but there is a wide range of food on offer. Please also see an advert at the bottom of the page for the position of Kitchen Assistant.

Please can all children ensure that they bring their reading record book, reading book and home reading book (if they have one) each day. Reading books are changed each Monday and Friday and there will be an opportunity to change library books each Monday for KS2 children and Friday for KS1. Unfortunately, we are only able to change books on these days due to the need for them to be quarantined between use. We ask that children read at least four times a week and that their reading record book is signed. Thank you.

Have a lovely weekend!

Kate Douglass

Headteacher.

Yesterday, our running club took part in a virtual relay against other schools within the Mid Cornwall Sports Network. I have submitted their times and will let everyone know their results once we get them.

There are a few places left in the Key Stage 1 multi-skills club. If your child is interested, please let Mrs Kirby in the school office know.
