Tregony School Three Rs

Respectful, Responsible and Resilient

Dear Parent(s)/Carer(s),

It has been such a busy week with swimming, Easter activities and school trips (not to mention the continuation of learning). I was fortunate to accompany Little Carne Nursery and Towan Class to Newquay Zoo on Wednesday. They were all so excited to travel on a double decker bus and to see all of the animals.

It was lovely today, welcoming back families to our end of term assembly. Seeing our pupils all sing together, really was a poignant moment and we sincerely hope that this marks the return of more shared events. Little Caren also opened their doors to families and entertained them with some very tuneful Easter rhymes!

This week, Towan Class have been working hard to design and make traps to trap the Easter Bunny. The children loved their first class trip to the zoo and fully enjoyed their Easter morning with Nursery. The children have been telling me all about their plans for the Easter holiday, which has been lovely to hear.

This week, Summers Class have enjoyed their final swimming session. They worked hard developing their skills and techniques, before enjoying some fun time at the end. Also, this week they have been learning all about Holy Week and Easter, writing the Easter story and creating Easter crafts.

In Porthcurnick Class this week, we have been creating fact files on William Morris (who discovered the concept of north and south magnetic poles) and André-Marie Amperé (who discovered the link between magnets and electrical currents). We have also been learning about Easter celebrations around the world and creating our own. We also finished our dragon eye mats and are very proud of our sewing skills!

Portholland Class have completed a writing assessment this week and I couldn't be more proud of their work. The children explored the story of Oliver Twist, a rags to riches tale. They wrote their own stories imagining what else might have happened to Oliver if he had not become part of Fagin's gang. Their stories were brilliant and many children received Headteacher's Awards for them.

Porthluney Class have had a busy week, swimming, filming their final performance of 'The White Cliffs of Dover' and cutting and sewing material to complete their waistcoats. Have a look on our blog.

We wish our families the happiest of Easters and look forward to welcoming you back to the Summer Term on Monday 25th April.
