

Friday 2nd July

Dear Parent(s)/Carer(s),

This half-term seems to be running away with us and we are all sprinting to keep up with the pace! We are currently reviewing our risk assessments for our Sports Day and, as transmission rates continue to rise in Cornwall and we are hearing of more and more schools closing, we are doubtful that parents will be able to attend. I know that many of you will be disappointed, but we will hold our own sports day and will share these results with you. We will make a final decision next week.

Please can I make a polite request that the accessible parking space by the front entrance is left free as we have a family that currently needs to use this. Also, we are noticing lots of children running into the church grounds and using this area as a toilet. Your children are most welcome to use the school toilets to avoid any accidents! Thank you.

Monday will be our transition day so pupils who are changing classes/teachers will need to enter their new classes, as written in my email this week. Pupils are very excited about this day and Portholland Class are very much looking forward to meeting their new teacher, Mr Richards.

In Towan Class, we were very excited to see our caterpillars emerge; we have set them free today! Keep an eye out on Facebook for pictures of the big release. In science, we have explored making our own shadows using torches and boxes. In geography, we have been learning about the rainforest; we created our own rainforest using lots of different natural resources.

Children in Summers Class have been working very hard this week to complete their assessments. We have also been creating some pieces of art based on the work of Andy Goldsworthy, who uses natural materials to create sculptures. We collected some natural resources from the woodland and, this week, have been creating spiraling pathways.

This week, in Porthcurnick, we have been learning how to spot bugs when computing and then solving how to correct them to make the programmes work better. In P.E, we have been practising our sprinting and relay techniques, learning how to correctly hand over batons in races.

Portholland Class have had a busy week completing assessments; we have also been preparing for Sports Day, practising relay races, learning jumping techniques and mastering the triple jump. We are all extremely excited for our transition day on Monday and are looking forward to meeting our new classmates and teachers.

In Porthluney Class, we have been busy completing our final assessment week, practising for Sports Day and playing rounders. In history, we have been deciding whether the Ancient Maya are more clever than us in the 21st Century, using evidence to back up our opinion. .

Have a lovely weekend!

Attached to this email are some guides. These are written for different age groups and are a practical way to help you have conversations with your child about what they get up to online, and whether to be concerned about anything they're doing.

Nursery Manager Role

Kirsty Mead will soon be leaving Tregony Preschool having secured a new role within Cornwall Council's Children Schools and Families department. She would like to extend her thanks for all of the support from our families over the years and best regards to the Tregony CP School community in the future. The Tregony nursery manager role is currently open to applications on the Cornwall Council Jobsite. Please see the advert and share with anyone you feel might be suitable for the role.

Fundraiser

We have now signed up to 'Empties Please'. Please bring your empty ink cartridges and help us to raise money for the school. The recycle bin can be found in the front entrance of the school. Thank you. More information can be found <https://www.emptiesplease.com/schools/>
