Dear Parent(s)/Carer(s),

This week we started the first block of our swimming lessons. Porthluney Class enjoyed their swimming lessons during the afternoons and despite feeling a little tired behaved superbly throughout. We have started planning our summer London trip for our year 5/6 pupils. We have many exciting excursions planned and this promises to be a fantastic trip.

This week, we have received a traffic Regulation Order Consultation for proposed changes to parking restrictions outside the school and church. If this is agreed, this will significantly impact on parking for families of the school. As a growing school, many of our families and staff travel from outside of the village. Please can we ask that if you live in the village, wherever possible, that you walk to school or share lifts as this will ease congestion and will free up spaces for families who are unable to walk. Thank you.

This week, Little Carne has been investigating ice, each day with a different experiment. They played a waiting game to see how long it took to melt in our warm room. We also broke more ice with hammers, squeezed warm water on blocks of ice and painted with coloured ice cubes. For 'Tasty Tuesday' we made jam tarts.

This week, Towan Class have been learning all about different maps and why we use them. They loved talking about different countries around the world and relating this to their own experiences.. The children also thoroughly enjoyed learning all about worms and making their own worm farm. They then enjoyed searching for worms.

This week, Summers Class have finally managed to make their smoothies. They enjoyed tasting different fruits and vegetables, chopping and mixing the ingredients and finally, drinking their smoothies. Also this week, they have started learning about the everyday materials which are found all around us and they enjoyed having a material hunt around the classroom.

This week, Pendower class started their new art unit of learning. The children had the opportunity to experiment with clay. They flattened the clay, rolled shapes and made a range of the marks on the clay using objects. Then the children had a go at making a clay model.

In English this week, Porthcurnick class has written some excellent descriptions of the monster Grendel. We also started learning about the Anglo Saxons and why the Jutes, Angles and Saxons came to England. In art, the class enjoyed experimenting with mark making using charcoal.

Portholland class have written excellent descriptions of Antarctica this week. We have also had some lively discussions about monarchy. The children have enjoyed thinking about the differences between absolute and constitutional monarchies.

Porthluney Class have spent the afternoons this week at Polkyth Leisure Centre improving their swimming skills. The children have all made fantastic progress and have improved their breaststroke, front crawl and backstroke. Some children have had the opportunity to practise their water life-saving skills. The sessions have been greatly enjoyed by all members of the class.

Kind regards
